Lakes of the Clouds Seventy-Fifth Mizpah Springs Twenty-Fifth Anniversaries July 6, 7 & 8, 1990

This year marks the anniversaries of one of the oldest and one of the newest huts in the system. Come help celebrate the occasions and enjoy the activities planned by your anniversary committees and the North Country Board.

Celebration Schedule

Here's a schedule of activities to mark on your calendars:

Friday night, July 6-Former crews, friends and other guests gather at Lakes for an evening of socializing. Dinner at 6:00 p.m.

Saturday, July 7-11 :00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. anniversary buffet luncheon at Lakes
Saturday afternoon, July 7-Hike the range from Lakes to Mizpah (or transfer via vehicle and hike up Crawford Path).

Saturday night, July 7-Former crews, friends and guests gather at Mizpah for dinner at 6:00 p.m. and an evening of socializing. After dinner, films of early days in the huts.

Sunday, July 8-12:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. anniversary buffet luncheon at Mizpah.

Reservations

The AMC Reservation Office is holding 30 bunks at Lakes for Friday night, July 6 and 30 bunks at Mizpah for Saturday night, July 7 - first come, first served until May 20, after which all remaining bunks will be sold to the public. We urge you to call the reservation desk at (603) 466-2721 or write AMC Reservations Box 298, Gorham, NH 03581, but do it now because reservations are being booked by the general public as you read this. Remember to mention that if you are an AMC member and OH member in good standing, you receive the reduced rate of $20.00. Otherwise, the standard overnight rate for dinner, bed and breakfast is $47.50—either rate payable directly to the AMC, not the OH Association.

The anniversary luncheons at both huts are $5.00 each payable to the OH and should be reserved and paid in advance using the order form on page 7. All social hours are BYOB.

Special anniversaries always prompt the collection of slides, snapshots and memorabilia. Co-chairs David Huntley and Doug Hotchkiss are collecting notable events at both huts. Already, Dave has unearthed film footage of early hut days shot by the National Forest Service in the '20s. Please send what you have by using the response form on page 7.

Dave will transfer all film to videotape and send back the originals. The 100th Celebration slide show has already been transferred to a master tape which can produce VHS or Beta videos and is available through the Association (see page 8).

Got a card from Alan McKenzie about the spelling of Jack Orrok's name which was consistently misspelled in the November Resuscitator. And while he was at it, he also corrected the spelling of Chass Morse (not Chris) who was one of the original Resuscitator editors along with Howie Coff, Ned Therrien (not Therriau) of the USFS who's helping out on our cabin legal issue, Evarts (not Evart) Loomis and questions whether Casey Hodgdon has another d or one as in the published Hodgdon. Even Jack Orrok sent in a note that we'd messed up on the vowel in his name, but he wasn't sure how many would catch it.

Reminds me of how many times Tuckerman Ravine is referred to as Tuckerman's Ravine and that Lion Head is often referred to in the possessive and hardly anybody can spell Beott Spur. I used to think the Old Bridle Path was used by honey-

mooners in the 1800s, so how come it wasn't spelled Bridal like in Bridal Veil Falls? My dad used to test our intelligence by having us spell Osipee-how many s's, p's and e's? Then there's the spelling of Kancamagus Highway for which we can either blame or thank Cramps Monahan.

Robert Cramps Monahan sent a note this Christmas appreciating our mentioning the unexpected death of his wife of 56 years with whom he shared many trips to the huts. Gramps started working at Pinkham in '24, then went on to Carter and Lakes in '25 and '26. He was a member of the first Observatory crew in 1932. After his stint in the mountains, he went back to the Dartmouth area to represent his district in the NH House of Representatives, later becoming College Forester. He included a 1959 report he delivered to the House Committee on Resources, Recreation and development explaining House Bill 328. Here are excerpts from his report:

In spite of state-of-the-art typesetting equipment occasionally an error sneaks by da editor

Mr. Speaker: House Bill 328 is a short, six-line bill introduced by the Member from Bartlett (Mr. Chandler) that would name as the Kancamagus Highway the 34-mile Forest Highway No. 8 extending from Conway westerly through the White Mountain National Forest to Lincoln.

This name was batted about a bit in the 1957 session, which agreed under Chapter 269 to classify for state maintenance purposes this federal Forest Highway, "known as the New Hampshire Forest Highway 8".

Members from Lincoln, Campton and Thornton wanted to retain the designation Forest Highway No. 8, but the Committee on the other hand felt that Kancamagus Highway is a more desirable, appropriate and justifiable designation for the permanent name of this scenic route across the White Mountains. The coordinating committee consisted of representatives from the U. S. Forest Service, the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, the University of N. H., the N. H. Department of Public Works & Highways, the N. H. Forestry & Recreation Department, the N. H. Fish & Department and the N. H. Planning & Development Commission.

At the risk of being prejudged a renegade from Grafton County, I rise in opposition to the Senate amendment, whereby the route would be designated as "The Lincoln Valley Highway". This amendment is extreme localism. The Governor had stated in part, "Just as extreme nationalism is the greatest threat to world peace---just as extreme sectionalism can undermine the strength of America---so extreme localism can be the undoing of New Hampshire". It attempts to apply to an entire highway of some 34 miles the name of one terminus: Lincoln with complete disregard for the interests of the people at the other end of the route in the vicinity of Conway.

This Forest highway has been a long time in the making and will not be completed for another two years. More than 1 1/2 million dollars of Federal Forest Highway Funds have been expended in constructing this across-the-mountains highway from the Saco to the Pemigewasset. The taxpayers of the Nation have a stake in that highway and what it shall be called.

What is so wrong with its present designation as Kangamagus Highway? The name was adopted by a coordinating committee in which the various state agencies concerned had full representation. We have a rich Indian tradition in New Hampshire that we should exploit, if for no other reason than to attract the fancy of tourists looking for something beside throughway travel on their vacations. Kangamagus was the nephew of Wonalancet and the grandson of Passaconaway. He was the last chief of the Pennacook Confederacy from 1685 to 1691. An authority such as Samuel G. Drake in his book Indians of North America described him as "an artful, persevering, faithful man".

I'll admit that the name may be a bit difficult to spell and pronounce on first acquaintance, but it's easier to spell than Winnepesaukee and easier to pronounce than Chocorua, both long-accepted names in our New Hampshire nomenclature. This new route climbs a valley rimmed by such Indian-named mountains as Chocorua, Paugus, Passaconaway and Osceola before slabbing at the height-of-land the northern slopes of Mount Kancamagus. This name is a good one---a natural designation-and one that has no identity with the communities at either end of the highway. We ought to keep that name.

Editors note: Thanks to Cramps' efforts, we can misspell Kancamagus anyway we feel so inclined, usually inserting an n before the g, since many of us Bostonians pronounce it Kan-ku-mang-gis or Kan-ku-mon-gis. I only wish that Cramps' eloquence had been heard by the Dartmouth administration when they bowed to student demands in the '70s to strip the college of her proud Indian symbol, even though the printed college seal and the weather vane on Baker Library still stand as silent testimonials to a time when the college had a better sense of her history.

With regret, Tim Saunders wrote of Jack Orrok's death February 13th. Jack was 84 years old and had worked part time for Joe in '22 and '23 and full time at Carter in '24. He graciously donated his scrap book of his years in the huts, from which we published several of his snap shots in the last Resuscitator. His close friends were Howle Goff, Fran Belcher, Forbes MacGregor, Abe Parker, Charlie Morse and Gramps Monahan among others. He was interested in the OH and attended many monthly meetings and reunions over the years. Tim worked for Jack for 16 years at Debevoise-Anderson and figures the main reason for his employment was their OH connection.

Great news from Leslie Hahn, Director of development at the AMC, who has been counting the beans against pledges for the Club's Capital Campaign. Of the $200,952 pledged from OH, $192,097 had been received as of January 31st.

We asked for comments about where to have our winter reunion and what hours would be preferable and here are some of the responses.

George (No-G.-D.-Relation) Hamilton wrote "anywhere but downtown Boston". "Course he came to the reunion and, as always, it was great seeing him. Would you believe he's retired from Bank East since June? His news is that Lt. Gen. (Ret.) Richard G. Trefry is serving in the White House as Special Assistant to the President for Military Affairs.

Barbara Livesey Ricker wrote that the thought of parking on the Boston streets after dark and retuning to her car keeps her from attending. How about a place with a big parking lot of its own? Good to see Barbara at the reunion in spite of the parking problem. She closed Madison in September, then Mizpah in October. She had been working fall weekends at Gool for the previous three years in a row. Doug Shaffer was also at both closings and she saw Al Folger. Also saw Sue Costello at Mizpah who worked at Pinkham.

Dave Porter had a simple solution: if winter in Boston is too tough, have the reunion in San Francisco--we'll stop shaking temporarily for it. He remembered a western OH reunion at his home in '72 the same night as Boston made up of the Porters, Maxwells, Smiths (all of Greenleaf) and Sandy Harris, Slim Harris' daughter, and her husband.

Dave, get in touch with Bob Hitchcock who lives in Pleasanton, CA. He'd like a mini-reunion on the west coast. He makes it east to visit two grandchildren and his mother in CT and MA the week between the holidays. He'd like to hear from contemporaries Lawrie Brown, Connie Streeter, Ann Middleton, Don McIntosh and Al Thurston. Bob's dad--a past AMC president--died last February. Bob's address is 2397 Sandpiper Way, Pleasanton, CA 94566.

Art Whitehead wrote he thought the new time frame was better, and he misses getting to them.

Porky Curwen couldn't make the date and wondered why it couldn't be the Saturday before Christmas. (We felt the 23rd was a wee bit too close to Christmas, Porky.) He ran into Al Folger on the trail to Zool in October.

Richard Hayes thought a date after the holidays would find more takers than during the holidays because of the conflict with company parties, family and other social activities. He suggests a January date to see what attendance would be. He ran into Ollie Drown while X-C skiing at Eastman in Grantham, NH.

Tom Johnson likes the earlier hours, but still couldn't make it this year. He's interested in checking through our mail list to contact OH in the Hanover, NH area.

Jean Macmillan Bennion suggests an alternative meeting site such as Nashua-Manchester or Concord and writes that Dr. Harry McDade sends greetings and wants to know if Linus would repeat his NZ program in the North Country. Harry would have been proud of his protege reeling off NZ flora and fauna like his old master who happens to know every Latin name of Mt. Lafayette's vegetation. Sorry to hear that Jean's husband Bill died in June.

Bob Cary made the reunion and is looking forward to Lakes' 75th. He's enjoying life by the ocean in Swampscott, MA.

One of the nice features for getting together early was meeting at Locke-Obers for lunch before assembling at Joy Street. Bob Story Sr. took a train from CT and met the Kehns, Linus and the Hamilton party at the downstairs men's bar for a delightful and relaxed lunch. After lunch, we all trooped upstairs to the second floor dining room to look at Margery Hamilton's painting of Chico, Locke's retired maitre de.

Ken Whiting finished aircraft mechanic training at Airtech in Limerick, ME and is now employed at Sanford Air, Inc. in Sanford. Good to see him at the winter reunion along with brother Gerry.

Anne Michalec Finlayson who guided hikes in '79, '80 is interested in getting in touch with OH from her years. She's used the cabin and our mail list posted at the cabin is out of date. Anne's address is 5 Beach Bluff Terrace, Cape Elizabeth, ME 04107.

Lloyd Dakin and family have been posted to the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees' HQ in Geneva, Switzerland. He lives across the border in Divonne, France and would like to say hi to any OH passing through.

dreams of her wonderful years at Pinkham and the bunkroom right over the barrel stove in the dining room. She saw Barbara Blanchard recently. Polly has six grandsons and two granddaughters.

Paul Bartlett wonders how he can renew his membership for a long time, what does a lifetime membership cost so he can write one check and then he won't have to remember to write all those checks every year. Paul, we'd rather hear from you every year while you send in your ten bucks.

Nice note from Judy George Stephens who worked Evans and Pinkham in '50s. She's living in Springfield, IL and reports one son is a 4th generation lawyer, another is at Bowdoin and that she and her husband Harvey celebrated their 30th anniversary on a 3-week trip to Gennany and England. They live down the street from Hobie and Betsy Heistand who formerly lived in N. Conway and were great friends of Joe and Teen.

Richard Goldthwait asked for an explanation of honorary member. Back in a winter '86 Resuscitator, we published our revised bylaws and in Article III defined an honorary member as an individual who has made outstanding contributions that have enriched the experience provided by the Hut System or associated facilities. Don't ask me who is an honorary member since the Steering Committee hasn't conferred the distinction on anybody in the past 10 years. Dick is active in his FL retirement doing geology in NH summertimes and writing NH, AK and OH-the state-geology winters from his home in Anna-Maria.

Always like news from Hal Bernson, Rear Admiral USN who settled on his career plans while gazing out over Lonesome Lake during the '50s mumbering something like "there's gotta be something bigger out there than this puddle". After a stint in the Persian Gulf in charge of bigger stuff than the occasional Lonesome floating Ivory soap bar, he has returned to become director of

Plans and Policy of the U. S. Atlantic Fleet. Sorry you couldn't make the winter reunion and hope to meet you next year.

Another old salt, Rusty Cook has returned to the mountains after a 24-year stint with the Navy. Rusty wasn't an OH, but many '59-'60 will remember him working at the Obs and Moosilauke Ravine Lodge where an alliance of sorts was fanned between Rusty and Kirk Sibson at Madison called Camp Ssipesoom (you'll need a mirror to figure that one out) and Rusty spent enough spring vacations around Pinkham, Tuck and the OH cabin to almost pass as an OH, not to mention his appearance in the '61 National Geographic article about the huts. Anyway, Rusty bought a house in Intervale right next to Limmer's and has converted it to a bed and breakfast. He answered an ad for a staff photographer at the Obs and rejoined the staff after an absence of 30 years.

Connie Porter showed up at the winter reunion with all kinds of Lisa and Sarah Mineo, and stopped by a Steering Committee meeting last fall.

Sharon Nanarnton's Kast who worked at Pinkham '63,'64 and roomed with Nancy Storyland Morill asks where is Irma?

You both don't both have to be a real certified OH to support the Association. Robin and Bob Najar who live in Newcastle, NH each pay dues - Bob worked in the huts, Robin worked Trail Crew and both came to the reunion.

Fred Stott always comes through with a hello and see you at reunion. And it's always a pleasure to see someone who appears to be frozen in time-what's he drink anyway?

Ran into an early '70s vintage OH in February that didn't know about the Association- Charles Cap Kane who opened in '69 and '70, worked winter-spring Pinkham in '71 and construction at Lakes spring '71. A quick thumbing through the by-laws proves Cap satisfies criteria for membership having worked in the huts as a seasonal employee, including his stint on the construction crew. He's living in Duxbury, MA with his horse-trainer wife Annie in an antique home and grounds that require all his CC background skills. Cap's a veep at Tucker Anthony, hikes winter 4000 footers and winter camps in the Whites, skis Tuck every spring, a member of a ski club that owns a hunk of land on the Eagle ML Road in Jackson and, in the time that's left over, has run three Boston Maralhons, is an avid bird hunter and quadruple sculls oarsman, just recently competing at Henley in the Queen Mother's Cup June '89 representing the Union Boat Oub.

Katy Terrell Hlza and husband Mark writes she thinks of the Whites frequently. They live in PA, but have built a home on Swan's Island off the coast of ML Dessert and will be working on the interior this summer welcoming all hard-working OH to stop by - seriously, they'd love to see old friends.

Dulcie Heiman came to winter reunion and wrote of vacationing with Alan Berlin in CA during the San Francisco quake in October. Only 4 blocks from their motel, buildings collapsed and the great fire raged. She says Barbara Wagner was in CA at the same time.

On the other coast, James Marston writes from Myrtle Beach that Hurricane Hugo did him dirty by blowing off the top of his mobile home, then dropping a tree on what was left, followed by the tidal surge. He replaced the home in December and hopes it doesn't happen for another 38 years when he will be 98. Tun swims at a local health and swim club 6 days a week.

Hunt and Peggy Parker Curtis worked Donks and Pinkham in the '405 wrote that they've found Dave Angell.

Stan Bourne, another OH from the '40s visited Zealand and Greenleaf with his wife in August-a return after 40 years. They see Dick Hale, Green Penn and brother Russ who are the only OH they stay see regularly. He reports seeing Bob Trunbull.

Another '40s OH, Ted Brinton, writes he met Alan Horton while sailing the coast of Turkey. Ted has a house in Randolph and extends the invitation for a shower, bed or meal. His phone is 466-3892.

Fred Greene, '30s, is still sailing the coast of Maine in his Sabre 28.

Dave Ward is back in St. Louis, but trying to stay in touch with everyone.

Henry Rogerson lives in Virginia Beach, VA and hopes to get his son to haul him up to Madison "next summer". Nice to know the system's still there and "that for a brief time I was part of it".

Alan Kaufman has news of the cross-troops in New Haven reduced to a previous three since Annie Hannaway graduated and went to work in Pakistan. Charlie Charmln, second year at Yale Medical and Rick Boyce, completing his forestry Phd thesis Alan, struggling through a BS in math make up the threesome. Alan writes of clusters of recently graduated OH, Phil Coyne, Charlle (Barbara) Smith and Anne Pollard who live near one another in IX: and in Boston, Moon Trafton, Deanna Kramer and Stinger (John) Weeman. Hey, you Boston OH, come to our Steering Commnuice meetings!

Nat Balch, CC '79,'80, went back to school and graduated from UNH in '85 with a BS in Mechanical Engineering. he's married to Maggie Morrison nad lives in Dover, NH.

Sleezy Dalton in November and reported that Eleanor Andy Anderson died January 1988. She was Joe's secretary in '48,'49.

Ted Rooslund reports that Popeye Arsenault visits him in Portland, CT.

Anne Middleton visited Carter with Petie Van Everen this summer and reported that the Middleton's became grandparents in May-100 years to the day of Charlie Dodge's birthday who was Joe's brother.

Charlie Crooker and wife

Patty had their third child November 2-Kathleen Teresa. Charlie saw Hotchkiss in Boston in May, Andy Cook also completed a threesome on June 17 when Elizabeth Shasta was born.

Jack Tracy and Joanne Beckett are in London and had a baby in August named Shannon Beckett.

Dave Hall sent us the Tracy baby news and more about seeing Dave Cleveland star on Broadway in Phantom of the Opera in December. He was with Jenny Hall and Bill Blals. Also he reports that Sue Hall is in Boston and planning a trip to Spain, Andy Cohen is managing low income buildings renovating housing in Brooklyn. Terry Wright is teaching biology at Sonoma State University in CA and running river rafts in the Grand Canyon, Sierra Foothills and Idaho. He will be back to Lakes in June.

Alan Hoch writes that Terry Sylvester is fire chief at the Milan, NH F. D. Thanks for the news, Alan, because we can add Terry to our mail list and hope he will renew his OH status.

Art Harris got together with Alan Grant and Frank Bus Carlson at a Winchester MA high school reunion. Art, please send your photos of the '38-'41 years.

Nonna Hart Anderson. Pinkham '51-'52, writes that her youngest son Dag will be married this summer and for the occasion, Norma has forged sterling silver champagne chalices for the wedding toast. The chalices were accepted into the League of New Hampshire Craftsmen's annual exhibit displayed at the Manchester, NH Institute of Arts and Sciences. Norma has four grandsons, hiking and being packed by her two other children. Her oldest son Leif is a forest ranger busy last summer fighting fires out West. Thanks for the vintage pix.

Dave Albala will finish his urology residence at Dartmouth in June and then move on to St Louis for a one year fellowship in endourology/stone disease at Washington University. He hopes to return to the north country for a real job.

Jon Burroughs works as an emergency physician at Memorial Hospital in North Cornflake while living at Mittersill in Franconia where he can enjoy the hills year round. Says he's still looking for someone with whom he can share the outdoor life.

John Halporn, Galehead, Lakes, Mizpah, Carter, Lakes, Ass't Huts Manager '82-'89, left the club in June '89 to go to medical school in Cleveland. With great relish, he finally joined the OH in November.

Al Sise expected to make it to winter reunion, but cracked up on the slopes tearing his shoulder. He traveled in Canada and visited friends in FLA and was elected a member of the USSA Alpine Masters National Ski Team in '89-'90.

Bob Harris sent some vintage photos of the '40s and a clipping from the Boston Globe November 22, 1989 featuring an article about Bob McIntyre who has been recuperating from a bout with cancer while still remaining active as Eastern Mass. Super Bowl director, a position he's held since the playoffs began in '72. He was Melrose's track coach and has been one of the leading cross-country and track coaches in Massachusetts.

Tom Davis was at the winter reunion and visited the cabin January 20th, finding and leaving it in the usual good shape with plenty of firewood, kindling and paper starter.

Charlie Stillman, now living in Seattle, WA toured the US with his family last summer getting to the Whites for the first time since his CC and Zool days in the '60s. He visited Lonesome and the cabin and has been saying for years that the trails in the West are tame by comparison.

Dave Fonsela, Pinkham '53,'54, renewed his membership with the OH. He'd lost touch when he moved to Colorado, then New Mexico, Alaska, Central America and finally Saudi Arabia. He's now living in exotic Alabany and working with the Berkshire Chapter of the AMC.

The following folks have left no forwarding addresses. Please let us know on the order form where we might find them: James Armour, Cami Davis Bach, Miles Baumgartner, Mason Buck Bryant, Cummings, Jr., Dan Dalphonse, Jeff Damp, Peter Degnan, Amy Fitzgerald, Heather Goguen, Dr. A. List, Jr., Amory Loving, Sarah Heath, Dexter Perkins, John Stahl, Roger Stern, Mr. & Mrs. C. Taylor, Jennifer Tilton, Wendy Williams, Jeffrey Worst.

The 1988 Huts Centennial multi-projector slide show is now available on videotape. Hundreds of slide images that capture the essence of the huts' long life from Madison's beginning to the first days of the '88 summer season have been professionally converted to video by Dave Huntley. Narration is supplied by Mac Stott and Barbara Wagner. Available in either your basic VHS or Beta formats approximately 37 minutes long, just check off which format you prefer, enclose a check for $25 payable to the OH and a duplicate copy will be made and mailed to you. Please note that we must have ten orders in hand to keep duplicating costs down, so there may be a delay while we batch production in lots of ten. Keep the faith, we always make good on a promise, even though there may be minor delay.
